I am a young website designer looking to progress mainly within the UI community. I consider myself to be a conscientious person not only in using a methodical approach and attention to detail within the creativity process to achieve the best possible outcome for the project being undertaken but also in continually striving to update and expand my knowledge. Punctuality and timekeeping are very important to me and I'm very proud of my 100% UCM attendance and any project submission deadline record.

Educational Qualifications

May 2023 – UCM – BTEC Level 4 in Computing – Distinction

May 2020 – UCM – BTEC Level 3 in IT – Distinction*

May 2020 – UCM FE Award – IT Level 3

June 2018 – Castle Rushen High School – 9 GCSEs

Professional Skills and Development

Whilst attending UCM I developed my skills using MS Office and SQL, languages such as C#, Python, Javascript, HTML, and CSS, and within the design area, Adobe Illustrator, Photoshop, Blender, and Visual Studio.

In my own time over the last several years, I have been completing various online courses developed by Leeds University and the Open University on FutureLearn and Codecademy and continue to develop and update my skills by undertaking online coding from home.

Experience within the workplace

- Isle of Man Choral Society – At the end of 2023, I was engaged by this local choir to produce a new website rather than updating their existing website.
- PDMS – In 2020, during a six week block, I had the responsibility, within their design team, of creating and improving upon different live media and design projects for some of their company clients

- IOM Advertising – As part of work experience, I had the responsibility of creating different media types eg press releases, newsletters, posters, etc. while improving my computer and creative skills
